

WHAT IS COGNITIVE TESTING & WHY DO I NEED IT?

Kate Papp, Ph.D., Director of Neuropsychology for MADRC, will discuss the purpose of, and need for, cognitive testing and how it relates to research.

Dr. Papp will explain:

- Different types of cognitive testing
- How the tests are administered & by whom
- What the tests measure & how they are scored
- New developments in testing including smartphone and digital tests
- What happens after the testing

Dr. Papp will be joined by a current research study participant who will discuss their experience and answer questions.

Friday,
September
23rd

12 - 1 PM EST

Via Zoom

MASSACHUSETTS
Alzheimer's Disease
Research Center

To register: MADRC.org/events

